My experience was one that I will never forget, not least because I experienced events that I never thought I would have to deal with. One of those experiences was helping my new roommate through very challenging times in regards to his mental state. The way I had to step up and look after him on a daily basis was something that I will never forget and we have kept in touch ever since because we both appreciate just how important we both were in his recovery.

In addition to that, there were people, places and events that are unforgettable. I have made friends that have helped me truly come out of my shell. My confidence has skyrocketed and that has helped almost every aspect of my life. For example I gained an internship in a city Court shadowing a Judge that was a fantastic opportunity and gave me so many transferable skills that I will take with me to any future employment.
