

VOICES FROM Fragile States

EDUCATION IN CONFLICT AND FRAGILITY

15 April 2013
COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY, NEW YORK

A conference designed to support growth of local capacity in the education sector in fragile or conflict-affected countries to help deliver peace and long-term development.

Conference Directors:

Professor Sultan Barakat, Post-war Reconstruction and Development Unit, University of York

Professor Dirk Salomons, School of International and Public Affairs, Columbia University

Speakers and Panellists include:

Haneef Atmar, Former Minister of Education, Afghanistan

Allan Goodman, President, Institute of International Education

Paul Smith, Director USA, British Council

Thein Lwin, Member of the National League for Democracy's Education Affairs Committee

A major collaboration between the University of York & Columbia University with the support of

For more information or to book a free place go to: www.york.ac.uk/50/events/fragile-states