

Emotions in the History of Philosophy
CHiPhi Inaugural Conference – University of York, 13-14 May 2011
(Bowland Auditorium, Berrick Saul Building)

Programme

Friday 13 May

- 11.00-12.30 Inaugural address: Dan Garber (Princeton): ‘Thinking Historically/Thinking Analytically: The Passion of History and the History of Passions’
- 12.30-13.30 Buffet lunch, including poster presentations in Berrick Saul Room 008
- 13.30-15.00 Terence Irwin (Oxford): ‘The Subject of the Virtues’
- 15.00-15.15 Tea break (BS 008)
- 15.15-16.15 Postgraduate papers: Audrey Anton (Denison): ‘The Voluntary Nature of Aristotelian Emotions’; Jordan Taylor (Macquarie): ‘Emotional Affect and the Moral Imagination in Malebranche’
- 16.15-16.30 Tea break (BS 008)
- 16.30-18.00 Susan James (Birkbeck): ‘Impediments to Thinking: Spinoza on Affective Reasoning’
- 18.30-19.15 Drink reception sponsored by Cambridge University Press, in the Atrium of the National Science Learning Centre
- 19.15 Conference dinner in Quarks Restaurant, National Science Learning Centre

Saturday 14 May

- 9.30-11.00 Laurent Jaffro (Panthéon Sorbonne, Paris): ‘Laughter as a Moral Emotion in Shaftesbury and Hutcheson’
- 11.00-11.30 Coffee break
- 11.30-13.00 Christopher Bennett (Sheffield): ‘Schiller on Expressive Behaviour’
- 13.00-14.00 Buffet lunch
- 14.00-15.30 Chris Janaway (Southampton): ‘Affect and Cognition in Schopenhauer and Nietzsche’
- 15.30-16.00 Tea break
- 16.00-17.30 Simon Blackburn (Cambridge): ‘Calm Passions and Hot Heads’
- 17.30 Close of conference

sponsored by the White Rose Consortium, the Mind Association, the BSHP, Oxford University Press and Cambridge University Press