Breaking Boundaries in the Medieval Landscape

A day seminar exploring interdisciplinary approaches to Medieval landscape

Saturday 4th June from 1:00pm in the Birley Room
Department of Archaeology, Science Site, South Road Durham

Dr Susan Oosthuizen (University of Cambridge) Anglo-Saxon field systems: innovation or tradition?

Susan Kilby (University of Leicester) A Different World? Reconstructing the Peasant Environment in Medieval Elton

Dr Aleksandra McClain (University of York) Churches, monuments, and the northern landscape: mapping patronage and identity in the Middle-Ages

Ronan O'Donnell (University of Durham) Beyond the Origins Debate: Developing Dynamic Models of Open Fields Systems

Patrick Gleeson (University College Cork) title TBC

To be followed by a discussion and wine reception

All welcome, please RSVP to: archaeology.dma@durham.ac.uk