

An Interserve Newsletter for University of York

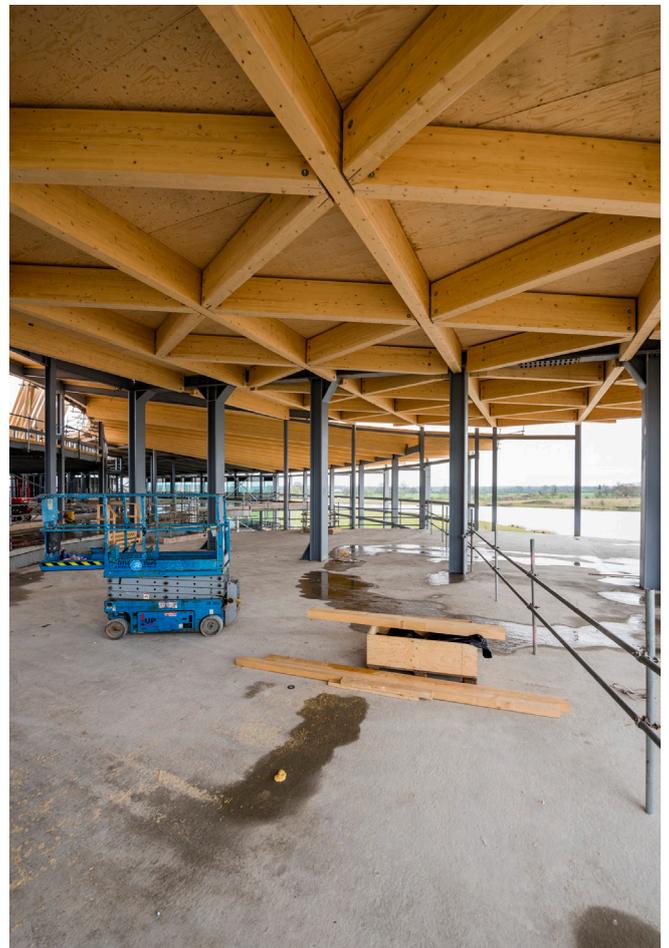

N°6 - April 2017

For more information, please contact Lianne Lawson: 07918 652743

The changes to the Piazza Learning Centre over the last couple of months are now really noticeable, with the external walls going up and the building really starting to take shape.

What's happening behind the hoardings?

- We have now finished installing the glulam beams which make up the roof structure. These impressive timber beams will be exposed in the finished building and make a really impressive feature for the new library
- All the concrete floor slabs have now been poured
- We have finished the blockwork for the plant room walls
- The M&E containment is now being installed. Containment is the trays, trunking and conduit that carry wiring for various different systems around the building
- The internal partition walls have started to be installed and work will continue on this over the next month
- The curtain walling that makes up the glass frontage of the building is now being installed and this will continue into June
- Work has started on the roof of the new building and this will continue over the next two months
- Installation of the structural framing system (SFS) is now underway, which together with the curtain walling, will make up the exterior of the building

What's coming up?

- We will be starting to lay the brickwork on the outside of the building
- The mechanical and electrical services installation will be continuing, some of the larger items of plant will be arriving over the next few months

Don't forget to follow
#yorkpiazza for updates
on how the project is progressing behind the hoardings!

OPEN DOORS

Get into Construction

Last month the Piazza Learning Centre hosted Open Doors, the nationwide construction industry event that invites members of the public and students onto site, to experience what working in construction is really like. It was great to see so many people interested in the project with 45 people visiting over the three days that the site opened.

Interserve are proud to sponsor the 2017 Roses tournament. The event sees the rivalry between Yorkshire and Lancashire played out in the form of the largest inter-university sports tournament in Europe! This is the 53rd time the University of York and the Lancaster University have battled it out to decide who lays claim to the James Carter Trophy. Between Friday 28 and Sunday 30 April the two universities will go head to head in 50 different sports, at 132 fixtures in front of hundreds of spectators in what promises to be an epic weekend of sport. For more information visit <http://roseslive.co.uk>

