Educational aims of the programme

The Centre for Lifelong Learning sees its role as being to provide exciting and pioneering adult education opportunities to citizens in the local community (City of York and North Yorkshire). The accredited programme of study therefore is distinctive in its equality of opportunity, offering an enriching educational experience in a supportive environment that is tailored to and responsive to the needs of adult learners.

- Encourage students to think critically and independently.
- Encourage and support an enthusiasm for the subject area.
- Provide knowledge and understanding of the concept of an inter-disciplinary certificate.
- Provide stimulating and relevant modules relating to the aspirations and needs of adult learners, which will equip students with confidence and the ability to enhance their personal development.
- Equip students with a variety of generic study skills appropriate to this level of study.

The content of the programme as it stands is based on current tutor interests - however it is fully anticipated that other interdisciplinary modules be added in the future in line with student demand. As there is considerable interest within the city and amongst heritage/academic partners, experts in specific fields will be invited to offer guest lectures as appropriate.

<tr>
<td>To be eligible for an award of the University of York a student must undertake an approved programme of study, obtain a specified number of credits (at a specified level(s)), and meet any other requirements of the award as specified in the award requirements, programme information, and other University regulations (e.g. payment of fees). Credit will be awarded upon passing a module’s assessment(s) but some credit may be awarded where failure has been compensated by achievement in other modules. The University’s award and assessment regulations specify the University’s marking scheme, and rules governing progression (including rules for compensation), reassessment, award requirements and degree classification. The award and assessment regulations apply to all programmes: any exceptions that that relate to this programme are approved by University Teaching Committee and are recorded at the end of this document.</td>

Overview of modules by stage

Students need 60 credits to achieve the University Certificate.

In order to achieve the specific University Certificate of Lifelong Learning (York Studies) award however, students MUST complete at least 5 x10 credit modules which fall within the York Studies category (students may complete a 10 credit module from the wider module pool to contribute to this award).

The most up-to-date diagrams of programme structures can be found at http://www.york.ac.uk/lifelonglearning/credit/certificates/.

<sup>1</sup> The credit level is an indication of the module’s relative intellectual demand, complexity and depth of learning and of learner autonomy (Level 4/Certificate, Level 5/Intermediate, Level 6/Honours, Level 7/Masters)

<sup>2</sup> The credit value gives the notional workload for the module, where 1 credit corresponds to a notional workload of 10 hours (including contact hours, private study and assessment)

P/F – the module marked on a pass/fail basis (NB pass/fail modules cannot be compensated)

NC – the module cannot be compensated

NR – there is no reassessment opportunity for this module. It must be passed at the first attempt
All of these modules will also be available to students studying on the Certificate of Higher Education (Arts and Humanities) and (Social Science) programmes to encourage interdisciplinary study.

Further modules may be added to this specific programme of study as demand dictates.

Quality and Standards

The University has a framework in place to ensure that the standards of its programmes are maintained, and the quality of the learning experience is enhanced.

Quality assurance and enhancement processes include:

- the academic oversight of programmes within departments by a Board of Studies, which includes student representation
- the oversight of programmes by external examiners, who ensure that standards at the University of York are comparable with those elsewhere in the sector
- annual monitoring and periodic review of programmes
- the acquisition of feedback from students by departments, and via the National Student Survey.

Please note

The information above provides a concise summary of the main features of the programme and the learning outcomes that a typical student might reasonably be expected to achieve and demonstrate if he/she takes full advantage of the learning opportunities that are provided.

Detailed information on the learning outcomes, content, delivery and assessment of modules can be found in the module descriptions.

The University reserves the right to modify this overview in unforeseen circumstances, or where the process of academic development, based on feedback from staff, students, external examiners or professional bodies, requires a change to be made. Students will be notified of any substantive changes at the first available opportunity.
