

A Renaissance Reclaimed

Jacob Burckhardt's 'Civilisation of the Renaissance in Italy'
Reconsidered

A Renaissance Reclaimed brings together an international team of historians of scholarship, politics, religion, literature, and ideas, whose expertise straddles the Renaissance and nineteenth century, to evaluate the achievement and legacy of the most famous work by the Swiss 'father of cultural history' Jacob Burckhardt (1818-97)

Features

- Brings together in one place the insights of historians of Renaissance literature, art, scholarship, religion, political theory, and festivals
- Considers Burckhardt's ideas both in terms of their intrinsic worth and for what they tell us about the age in which he was writing
- Represents the latest scholarship in the relevant fields
