

Procedure for Review of Ethical Issues in Research

Environment Department, University of York

It is the responsibility of the person leading the activity to consider the possible ethical implications

