Testimonial on the Marine Environmental Management Msc course

I come from Greece and am an officer of Hellenic Coastguard. I chose to do this MSc after being awarded a scholarship from the Greek Government to study marine environmental conservation. Prior to the course I had only a basic understanding about the wide range of environmental problems that our planet faces. Hence the year was challenging for me and involved lots of very hard work. Despite this I enjoyed it very much. I liked the way the course was organized and the attitude of our professors! The environmental issues we covered were very interesting and I now feel confident and knowledgeable as an officer of the Hellenic Coast Guard to embark upon new aspects of my job that will be related to the design and implementation of marine conservation policy!
