MSc Marine Environmental Management, Course Testimonial

The MEM course is an excellent postgraduate course for all those who love marine life and their habitats. Having previously studied marine biology for my undergraduate degree, I was looking for a masters course that gave that little bit extra. I was very happy with my choice. The modules in the first semester act as a refresher to some aspects covered in my marine biology degree, such as the ‘marine ecosystems’ and ‘ocean and coastal processes’ modules. In the second semester I studied new topics along with developing my research and analytical skills – which was my main goal for the year. The staff are passionate about marine conservation and management, are friendly and very approachable. My favourite aspect of the course was the summer placement module where I ended up diving the summer months in the cold but beautiful area of West Scotland. Overall, a fantastic year of studying, networking and diving!
