Assessment Guidance

Formative – 500-word draft
You will have the opportunity to submit and receive feedback on a 500-word (maximum) draft relating to your summative assessment (essay).

Your formative draft may include:
- An outline of your chosen topic/essay focus and rationale.
- How you have accessed sources/relevant reading, and examples of key source material you will use to underpin your work.
- An essay plan outlining your proposed structure and how you will develop your discussion – i.e. the main points you plan to cover in your essay.
- Draft section(s) of your essay with specific questions relating to areas of your work you require feedback on (e.g. application of theory to practice; level of analysis; explanation of relevant issues etc).

Summative – essay
You are required to write an essay that outlines the complexities of supporting people with learning disabilities and their carers. You are required to achieve this by using an appended care study to make links between theory and practice. The theoretical content of your essay should cover the potential causation(s) of challenging behaviour and evaluate a range of appropriate interventions. You should also demonstrate an understanding of the role of the learning disability nurse in supporting people with learning disabilities in contemporary and person centred ways.

Failure to append the care study will result in failure of the assignment. The maximum mark available in this circumstance will be 39%.
