Assessment Guidance Note: This document uses the word 'women' throughout. This should be taken to include people who do not identify as women but are pregnant or who have given birth. Assessment title Oral response to unseen case study Assessment guidance The summative assessment for this module is a 15 minute oral presentation in response to an unseen case study. You will also have 15 minutes preparation time to plan and make relevant notes. The case study will be based on the module content and is designed to meet the module learning outcomes. You will be required to analyse and evaluate the midwife's role providing universal midwifery care for women and families during the childbearing period which will included elements of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • public health, health promotion and health protection • assessment, screening and care planning • optimising normal physiological processes • working to promote positive outcomes and prevent complications. In your response, as relevant to the case, you will outline a plan for midwifery care which: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • applies relevant, contemporary evidence, practice and policy • includes ethical considerations • promotes informed decision making • strengthens women's capabilities to care for themselves and their newborn infants. Due to the nature of the assessment for this module the University's anonymous marking policy does not apply to the oral presentation as students can be identified through the content or delivery of the assessment. Therefore assessments submitted should be identified with the student's name only and not the student's examination candidate number.

Formative support

During the module you will have the opportunity to undertake a practice oral presentation in real time, in response to an unseen case study (15 minutes preparation and 15 minutes presentation). Suggested model answers will be discussed by the module team. Individual feedback for formative assessment will not be provided for this module.
