Examination of an assessment of an acutely ill adult.

- Your essay will describe an assessment strategy; this could be an algorithm, assessment tool, guideline, or policy used in the assessment of, or detection of deterioration, in the acutely ill adult.
- You will briefly describe the underpinning evidence for the assessment strategy.
- You will briefly describe the associated applied physiology for the chosen strategy.
- With reference to appropriate contemporary literature you will reflect on the implementation of the chosen strategy within your own practice area and the impact on patient outcomes.

An anonymised copy of the algorithm, assessment tool, guideline, or policy must be appended to the essay. If a national guideline is used then a link to the guideline must be provided. Failure to submit this will result in a mark of zero being awarded.
