Assessment Guidance
A 3000 word essay: Critically explain the theory underpinning your intervention with a dually diagnosed client. Justify the chosen intervention in contrast to other techniques.

Specific criteria:
Knowledge and understanding
The student is required to:
- Define the problem and intervention
- Discuss the formulation of the problem
- Make clear the rationale, plan, their role and the role of others
- Evaluate the intervention including its effectiveness

Structure and organisation
The student is required to show a logical and systematic approach with no undue repetition of arguments, few omissions and a conclusion. The assignment must be well presented in accordance with the Department’s guidelines.

Application of theory to practice
The student is required to:
- Discuss and critically analyse the specific problem a dually diagnosed client presents with
- Discuss and analyse the problem in relation to the literature
- Provide a rationale for the intervention including limitations
- Contrast this intervention with others in the literature

Critical reflection
The student is required to:
- Demonstrate skills in analysing how his/her relationship and intervention with the client has had an impact
- Reflect upon his/her use of an intervention and any skill development required

Use of source material
The student is required to show evidence of having consulted relevant literature which:
- Informs the discussion both in depth and critique
- Is appropriate to his/her client’s problems
- Is referenced in accordance with departmental guidelines
