FORTHCOMING EVENT IN THE STAINED GLASS RESEARCH SCHOOL

Saturday 30 November, 2013

Research Seminar

Nineteenth-Century Stained Glass Studies: New Directions in Scholarship

The Last Judgment, west window of St George’s Church, Jesmond, 1888 (Photo: Dr Neil Moat)
SPEAKERS

Dr Neil Moat (PhD, Newcastle), Dr Jasmine Allen (PhD, York), Dr Wojciech Balus of the Corpus Vitrearum, Poland (Uniwersytetu Jagiellońskiego, Krakow) Professor Liz Prettejohn, University of York

Four scholars involved in the study of nineteenth-century stained glass, art and culture, two of them recent doctoral candidates, will offer a personal perspective on their own research and new directions in scholarship in this field. These stimulating presentations will act as a catalyst for wider discussion and the event will be particularly illuminating for young scholars embarking on research in this area.

9.00am-5.00pm, Bowland Auditorium, Berrick Saul Building, Heslington Campus

Contact brittany.scowcroft@york.ac.uk to book a place