WEEK 10:
Tuesday 8th March
12:00-14:00
Exploring the Themes: Creativity and Technologies for the Future

University Research Theme Champions Damian Murphy (Creativity) and Thomas Krauss (Technologies for the Future) present a vision for their respective themes, drawing on key examples of multi-disciplinary collaborative research from across the University’s portfolio.

In particular this session will explore the interaction between arts, humanities and the sciences in developing research with a focus on creativity, and where technologies for the future might influence traditional arts and humanities research practice.
