I like how in lectures we learnt about what to do for our project and in practicals we got to apply corpus knowledge to actual corpora

Tutor response:

I modified this year's course so that students would learn to use one platform thoroughly (Sketch Engine). In relation to this I note that there was a 100% positive response (agree or strongly agree) with the statement 'IT resources and facilities supported my learning well'. I'm also encouraged by the positive feedback on the practical-oriented approach, and I was pleased to see in student assessments the significant progress they had made in developing their technical skills and applying them. I've noted a number of points for improvement that will feed into the development of the course in 23/24.

Thank you for your feedback.
