Tutor response:

I was pleased to see that most of the respondents were satisfied with the module overall and that everyone found the module intellectually stimulating. You were particularly happy with assessment instructions and feedback and opportunities to contact me for support and guidance.

The only constructive criticism received concerned availability of resources (and The Cambridge Dictionary of English Place-Names in particular). I have requested that the library buy more copies of The Cambridge Dictionary of English Place-Names and have set up a Google from to collect information about other resources students find hard to access next academic year.

Thank you for your feedback.
