Luca Vullo

Luca Vullo is a writer, director and producer based between London and Los Angeles who has realized powerful documentaries well received and recognized internationally. He is an expert of Italian gestures and non-verbal communication. His workshops have received very warm responses worldwide and won many awards.

Workshop content:

Non-verbal communication between stereotypes, history, language and culture

The study of hand gestures and facial expressions of Italian people is fundamental to understand Italian mentality and the culture. Thanks to the encounter with other cultures Luca allows us to discover how Italians are seen abroad and how they communicate emotions and thoughts differently .

Luca Vullo, as ambassador of Italian gestures in the world, thanks to the constant comparison with other countries, entertains us with anecdotes and secrets about this extraordinary skill of the Italians.
