

Doing Research that Makes a Difference

POSTER COMPETITION

The White Rose Doctoral Conference, 14-15 July 2014

This is an invitation for you to present your doctoral research to a wider audience, which will collectively produce an impressive and engaging sample snapshot of the great variety of research being undertaken by the conference delegates.

Finalist and second year research students are invited to present a paper on their research.

First year research students are invited to present a poster, which will be viewed by PhD colleagues, members of staff from the Universities of York, Sheffield and Leeds and members of the university and the public through the exhibition space.

What is required?

Finalists and second year research students: You are invited to give a twenty minute presentation on your research. The papers will be organised into streams and there will be time for questions and comments on your paper by other participants.

First year research students: Please create a poster which offers a clear 'taster encounter' with your research project for a non-specialist audience, and has quickly appreciable visual impact.

Please email Helen Geddes (h.geddes@york.ac.uk), by 14 April 2014, to confirm your intention to submit a poster. Poster designs (in pdf or jpg format) to be submitted to Helen Geddes by 12 noon on 23 June 2014.
