

April 2018 newsletter

Three Minute Thesis: last chance to enter!

Sharpen your presentation and research communication skills in this year's 3 Minute Thesis (3MT) competition, as you explain your research to a non-specialist audience in three minutes or less.

Finalists will receive training and present at a Festival of Ideas event on Tuesday 12 June 2018, with Greg Dyke as host for the evening. There are prizes for the winners. Applications close this Friday**

- Find out more about 3MT

Teaching opportunities for postgraduates

The Learning Enhancement Team provides casual paid opportunities for postgraduates to engage in a range of academic skills teaching.

Gain experience and develop your skills by being an Academic Assignment Tutor. Application deadline: Thursday 3 May 2018

- Find out more about teaching opportunities

Develop communication skills at ResearchBites 2018

York ResearchBites 2018

*A high profile public engagement event
In association with the Laidlaw Competition*

An excellent opportunity for YOU to communicate your research, showcasing that exciting research can also have exciting delivery!

ResearchBites is a public engagement event designed to showcase research projects happening in York to an audience of non-specialists and local schoolchildren.

Develop research communication and public engagement skills using interactive and creative displays. Application deadline: Tuesday 24 April 2018

- Find out more about ResearchBites 2018

Funding opportunities for international research

The Global Engagement Office is holding a showcase on Tuesday 24 April 2018 to highlight funding opportunities available through York's membership of the Worldwide Universities Network (WUN). Find out about the Research Mobility Programme, which provides up to £2,500 to carry out research at a WUN international partner.

- Register your free place at the showcase

Bursaries available to attend N8 AgriFood Conference 2018

AgriFood at York is offering up to 25 bursaries of £300 each for PhD students and early career researchers to attend the N8 AgriFood International Conference 2018 in June. Application deadline: Monday 21 May 2018

- Apply for the bursary

New: Open Data in Practice events series

Funders and Universities UK have recognised the benefits from opening up research data in the recently launched Concordat on Open Research Data. The Research Support Team is hosting a Benefits of Sharing Data event on Thursday 17 May 2018 for staff and postgraduate research students to share experiences around the benefits of sharing research data.

- Find out more about the event

Get the most out of Google Apps

On Thursday 26 April 2018, Wentworth College is hosting a workshop on getting the most from Google Apps, including managing calendars, organising appointments, and sharing media.

- Register your free place

Apply to be a college tutor

College tutors are student members of the college team who live in college and provide a first point of contact for other students, as well as supporting college activity which builds the student community. Find out more at an info session on Wednesday 18 April. Application deadline: Saturday 28 April 2018

- Find out more about being a college tutor

All these news items and more can be found at the York Research Student Community

Sent this in error? Email: ygrs@york.ac.uk