Nik Brown

Roger Burrows

Colin Campbell

Conor Douglas

Nick Gane

Nicholas Gane, Couze Venn and Martin Hand ‘Ubiquitous Surveillance?: Interview with Katherine Hayles’. Theory, Culture and Society, 24, 7-8, 2007.

Stevi Jackson

Jackson, S. and Scott, S. ‘Faking like a Woman: Towards an interpretive theorization of sexual pleasure, Body and Society, 13 (2) 2007 pp.95-116

Celia Kitzinger

Brian Loader

Sarah Nettleton

Nettleton, S. (2007) Retaining the Sociology in Medical Sociology Social Science & Medicine 65 (12) 2409-2412

Darren Reed

Amanda Rees

Rees, A ‘If they’re so smart, why can’t they talk? Science and the study of primate minds in the home, the laboratory and the field’, Bulletin d’histoire et d’épistémologie des sciences de la vie 14 (2007) 163-184

Barry Sandywell

Clare Stockill

Merran Toerien

Emma Uprichard

Andrew Webster

Andrew Webster, Health Technology and Society: A Sociological Critique (Palgrave Macmillan), 2007

Andrew Webster, Reflections on Reflexive Engagement, Science Technology and Human Values, 32:608-16

Andrew Webster, Going beyond the lab: mobilising basic science through socio-technical networks, Science Impact  FWF, Austria.

Andrew Webster, Political cultures, bioethics and the regulation of embryonic stem cells: governing and trading in ethical capital, Cambridge Bioethics Lecture Series Darwin College, University of Cambridge
Simon Winlow

Robin Wooffitt

