Understanding and Supporting Children with Harmful Sexual Behaviour

Tracy Almond, University of York & Adrian Smith, Kirklees Youth Offending Team

Wednesday 18th March 2020
10.15 a.m (registration from 9.45) to 4.15pm
Hudawi Centre, Great Northern Street,
Huddersfield, HD1 6BG

This event will consider;
Understanding and responding to inappropriate sexual behaviour by children and young people
Supporting those who parent children displaying this behaviour, particularly foster parents and carers

Tracy has been a practising social worker since 1997, specialising in the criminal justice field. She has worked in the probation service, youth offending teams and, latterly, with the NSPCC and Lucy Faithfull Foundation sexual abuse organisation, occupying practitioner, educator/consultancy and manager roles.

Tracy is registered with the Health and Care Professions Council (HCPC) and a member of the Institute for the Recovery of Childhood Trauma (IRCT) and National Assoc. for the Treatment of Abusers (NOTA).

Adrian Smith, Social Worker with Kirklees Youth Offending Team, has conducted research into how confident are YOT staff in working with cases of harmful sexual behaviour.

For subscribing organisations this is a Children’s Services event. For others there is a fee of £95.

£25 bursary places are available for voluntary and community groups, charities, students and service users. Please ask for details:
