

We are looking for people to talk to. 'Renting your own place' research project.

Who are we?

We are a team of researchers from The Universities of York and Bristol supported by Learning Disability England and self-advocates from My Life My Choice and York People first.

What is the research about?

We are doing some research about people with learning disabilities who rent their own homes. We want to know what's working well and what's not. We want to know if people get help from social care.

Who are we looking for?

We want to interview 40 people who

- live in England
- have a learning disability
- rent their own home – from a private landlord or from a social housing organisation.

What should I do if I want to find out more about the research?

If you would like to take part or have any questions you can contact Eppie who is one of the researchers.
