Deadlines

- The deadline for the development of programme maps and enhancement plans is 31 July 2016.
- A summary of the overall timescale is also available online.

Pedagogy workshop, Wednesday 18 May 2016

Following on from the successful Pedagogy Symposium, a panel discussion will be running on Wednesday 18 May from 12.00-1.30pm in Vanbrugh. Colleagues will discuss how they are enhancing assessment in light of the York pedagogy.

Lunch and refreshments at 11.45am.

We warmly encourage any administrative contacts and postdoctoral students working on the pedagogy to attend our networking event, Q&A and lunch, 10.00-11.30am.

Interested staff can sign up on our online booking form.

Lunchtime Review Sessions

The Programme Leaders team are offering three lunchtime review sessions for colleagues involved in implementing the pedagogy, to share ideas and to work together on drafts of programme maps and enhancement plans. The sessions will take place on:

- Monday 9 May, 12.00-1.00pm
- Monday 6 June, 12.00-1.00pm
- Monday 4 July, 12.00-1.00pm

Lunch will be provided at each session. For more information and to book a place, please get in touch with the team at academic-practice@york.ac.uk.

Away days

Departmental away days have been proving useful in the facilitation of mapping. Sociology, Environment, Computer Science, York Management School, Language and Linguistic Science, Archaeology and Education have scheduled away days for this purpose. If you are planning on scheduling an away day to work on mapping, please get in touch with your ProPEL contact who will be able to advise on what support they can offer you.

Worth reading

It is an expectation of the York pedagogy that programme teams consider the development of digital literacy and transferable skills embedded in academic programmes. When populating the programme design document, you will need to articulate how the programme learning outcomes capture digital learning capabilities. When preparing programme maps, you may find useful the JISC resources supporting integration of digital literacy into curriculum change, available here.
