The York pedagogy Digest

Important deadlines

- The next deadline for submitting programme maps and enhancement plans for light touch feedback is 15 July 2016.
- Staff should use the Programme Map and Enhancement Proforma available here.
- The final deadline for submission of programme maps and enhancement plans is 31 July 2016.
- Most departments have booked a Board of Studies date to approve finalised documents in the Autumn term. Please give this date to your ProPEL contact as soon as possible.
- A summary of the overall timescale is also available online.

Drawing upon case studies from across the faculties, discover how supported learning technologies can support the York Pedagogy principles of structured student work and staff-student contact to enhance student learning.

There are two sessions on Tuesday 28 June and Thursday 30 June or a number of webinars over the summer. Find out more and register.

Worth Reading

Careers/ProPEL prompts and supporting materials

- In this Forum article, e-learning advisor Matt Cornock explores how learning technologies support students’ independent study.
- The e-learning vision statement summarises the use of learning technologies in teaching and learning, focusing on a commitment to standardising the provision of rich learning resources for students across all study programmes, whilst also using technologies to support active learning opportunities for our students, based on participant-controlled online learning activities.
- Edilson Arenas’ review of personal learning environments suggests some possible implications for academic practice in higher education.
- A number of e-learning case studies can be accessed here.
- For further reference, the York Technology-Enhanced Learning (TEL) Handbook can be consulted here.
Frequently Asked Questions

You can find answers to some of the key questions that have been asked about the implementation of York pedagogy, here.

Digital Literacy Workshop - POSTPONED

The Pedagogy Digital Literacy workshop advertised for 29th June in last week’s digest has been postponed until the Autumn term.

280616