

University of York 3MT® Final 2016

Tick Tock: Ideas against the clock

16 June 2016, P/X/001, Department of Physics, University of York

Event programme

10:00 Arrival and registration

10:30 Welcome and introduction

Dr Karen Clegg, Director of the Research Excellence Training Team (RETT)

10:40 Three minute thesis presentations from ten PhD students

10:40 Higher education incorporated: Neoliberalism, for-profit universities and the public intellectual - Kiev Ariza, The York Management School

10:44 Can robots be as efficient as ants? - Edgar Buchanan Berumen, Department of Electronics

10:48 Individual differences and second language learning - Veronica Garcia Castro, Department of Education

10:52 What are the limits of storytelling? - Jamie Cawthra, Department of Philosophy

10:56 Effective remedies – making wrongs right - Reginald Frection, York Law School

11:00 Listen to the silence - Hasmik Gasparyan, Department of Theatre, Film and Television

11:04 Building climate-resilience: Ukraine's agri-food sector can win-win-win - Natalie Kopytko, Environment Department

11:08 Make not your thoughts your prisons: using Shakespeare-based education for criminal rehabilitation - Laura Louise Nicklin, Department of Education

11:12 Why is behaviour management in schools not working for everyone? - Laura Oxley, Department of Education

11:16 Feeding the world with a good grain - Kuntal Singh, Department of Biology

11:25 “Death Becomes Them: Posthumous Celebrity Careers”

Dr Ruth Penfold-Mounce – Department of Sociology, University of York

11:50 Lunch (provided) and exhibition (finalists of the YorkTalks PhD student research spotlight competition)

12:30 Five minute presentations from high school students

Final of the North Yorkshire Coast Higher Education Collaboration's 'Give me Five' challenge. Introducing: Ebor Academy, Filey; St Augustine's Catholic School, Scarborough; George Pindar School, Scarborough; Graham School, Scarborough; and Bridlington School.

13:05 “There are places I remember”

Dr Tom Hartley – Department of Psychology, University of York

13:25 Winners announced, prizes awarded and close

North Yorkshire Coast
Higher Education Collaboration