Intended learning outcomes for the programme – and how the programme enables students to achieve and demonstrate the intended learning outcomes
This programme provides opportunities for students to develop and demonstrate knowledge and understanding qualities, skills and other attributes in the following areas:	The following teaching, learning and assessment methods enable students to achieve and to demonstrate the programme learning outcomes:
A: Knowledge and understanding
Knowledge and understanding of: For the Masters, Diploma and Certificate: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. recent approaches in the teaching of TESOL methods, including course design, assessment and classroom techniques 2. how to critically assess language learning activities and materials 3. how to apply these ideas to the design and assessment of language learning activities and materials 4. how to communicate and evaluate alternative points of view on TESOL presented in the evidence, and the critical and theoretical discussion students encounter in researching their topics of interest. 5. different methodological and theoretical perspectives in the researching of TESOL Additionally for the Diploma: Additionally for the Masters: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 6. how to use these ideas to design, carry out, and interpret an independent study in TESOL 	Learning/teaching methods and strategies (relating to numbered outcomes): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The programme is structured to include lectures, seminars, workshops and tutorials as the main methods of enhancing knowledge and understanding (1-6) • Lectures, workshops and seminars are interactive and students are encouraged to discuss and evaluate arguments, critically engage with theory and practice in their chosen field, and undertake problem solving activities. Skills of critical evaluation and analysis are further enhanced through directed tasks (1-6) • Data collection and analysis are developed through the research methodology modules and through the production of an independent study (1-6) Types/methods of assessment (relating to numbered outcomes) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Knowledge and understanding is assessed primarily through course work assignments. Examinations are used where assessment tasks most closely match the way in which knowledge and understanding developed in a particular module might be applied in practice (1-5). • Performance in planning and communicating research is assessed on a multi-task pass-fail basis (4 & 6). • A dissertation is used to assess the depth of knowledge and understanding of research processes and procedures students have acquired throughout their studies and to assess their ability to conduct an independent study (1-6).

B: (i) Skills – discipline related

University award regulations

To be eligible for an award of the University of York a student must undertake an approved programme of study, obtain a specified number of credits (at a specified level(s)), and meet any other requirements of the award as specified in the award requirements and programme regulations, and other University regulations (e.g. payment of fees). Credit will be awarded upon passing a module's assessment(s) but some credit may be awarded where failure has been compensated by achievement in other modules. The University's award and assessment regulations specify the University's marking scheme, and rules governing progression (including rules for compensation), reassessment and award requirements. The award and assessment regulations apply to all programmes: any exceptions that relate to this programme are approved by University Teaching Committee and are recorded at the end of this document.

Departmental policies on assessment and feedback

Procedures and policies relating to assessment, marking and feedback can be found in the University's Guide to Assessment, Standards, Marking and Feedback.

The Department follow the University rules for progression and award outlined in:

The Guide to Rules for Progression and Award in UG Programmes; and

The Guide to Rules for Progression and Award in PG Programmes

Further information on assessment (including grade descriptors, marking procedures, word counts etc.) is available in the Programme handbook on the Department's website: <http://www.york.ac.uk/education/intranet>

Information on formative and summative feedback to students on their work is available at the online module catalogue at: <https://www.york.ac.uk/students/studying/manage/programmes/module-catalogue/module>.
