Golden Rule: Customise your job applications

The most common reasons that stop students from getting the jobs that they apply for

Institute of Student Employers

Securing UK Work Experience

Internships

These are often voluntary opportunities you undertake because to gain professional experience..

Work Shadowing

Accompanying and observing “day in the life” of a professional to understand their work profile and role.

Student Societies

Taking up leadership roles in student societies or student unions can be a great addition to your CV, network, and skills.

Placements

up to year-long programmes that take place between the penultimate and final years of your degree

Work Experience Schemes

Such schemes or programmes are usually in the nature of traineeships or apprenticeship schemes.

Volunteering

Volunteering is offering your skills or undertaking unskilled work with no expectation of remuneration.

Success Stories

What do students have to say

“A very important tool is practicing online tests. These practice tests really helped me. After a little practice, they are really doable and I felt better prepared to dive into the application process after honing my skills.”

Jessica Pagel

Graduate Audit Trainee

Success Stories

What do students have to say

“I have visited my careers services once every year when the academic session began. I would definitely recommend doing that. I used to submit my CV and get their advice on it regularly.”

Success Stories

What do students have to say

“It is important to give yourself some time to finish the online tests. Do not rush them. They are not necessarily difficult; you just have to be calm during the process.”

How can international students get a headstart?

“International students use their global experiences and are eager to get things done. We have found that many candidates have this mentality of using their international experiences across the globe in their work.”
